IMPOSING CEREMONIES

Lowell's Body Peacefully At Rest.

The City of Cambridge in Mourning.

Mt. Auburn Cemetery the Burial Place—No Services at the Grave—Many Present.

Associated Press Dispatches.

Boston, Aug. 14.—Simple but impressive funeral services over the remains of the late James Russell Lowell were held in Appleton chapel, Cambridge. The remains were not exposed to view and were taken to Mt. Auburn immediately after the services at the chapel. They were followed by about fifteen carriages. There was no service at the grave.

While the body was being conveyed to its last resting place in Mt. Auburn, church bells throughout the city tolled and flags were displayed at half mast.

The spot selected for the poet's grave, it is understood, was of his own choosing. The lot is in a valley in the rear of the cemetery and directly in the shadow of Longfellow's lot, where rest the remains of America's famous bard. An immense crowd was gathered in the cemetery. Bishop Beach pronounced the last prayer which completed the Episcopal burial service, for although Dr. Lowell was a Unitarian, it was his wish that the funeral services should be from the Episcopal service book.

Among those in attendance were five survivors of the class of '38 of Harvard, of which Dr. Lowell was a member. The Order of the Loyal Legion, of which Dr. Lowell was a member, was also represented. Among other notable people present were Miss Ellen Emerson, daughter of Ralph Waldo Emerson, and R. B. Anderson, of Madison, Wis.

PRODUCE MARKETS EXCITED.

Wheat and Rye Advancing While Oats are Declining.

New York, Aug. 14.—The trading today in all small grains at the produce exchange were attended by great excitement. The movements of prices were rapid, and fluctuations wild and violent. In wheat a gain of 3 1/2 cents was made. The mad advance was based on the reports from Germany that the price of rye had risen above wheat. There was a sharp advance of rye on reports from Germany of the meetings of local boards to discuss the Russian ukase, and 136,000 bushels were sold at $1.04 and $1.05.

It is believed heavy shipments were necessary to fill the demand caused by the withdrawal of the supply of Russian rye. Sales of wheat here today were over 6,000,000 bushels. While wheat and rye were advancing there was a sharp break in cash oats, which declined 5 to 6 cents during the day.

Fishermen on a Strike.

San Francisco, Aug. 14.—The bark Nicholas Thayer, which arrived last night from Kodiak with a cargo of salmon, brought down 136 fishermen who struck because the cannery refused to take all the salmon caught. The men claimed this was the agreement under which they were shipped. It is claimed by those interested in the cannery that the agreement was to take 72,000 fish per day, and had they accepted more the over supply would have to have been thrown away and the cannery could not stand the loss. The fishermen state that the run was a comparatively poor one at the beginning of the season. The strike, it is expected, will have an important effect on the output of the Kodiak canneries this season, as but sixteen fishermen remain in that vicinity. The cannery will endeavor to procure fishermen from other islands.

CLOUD BURST AT CAMPO.

Nearly the Entire Village Swept Away. No Lives Lost.

San Diego, Cal., Aug. 14.—Information regarding the cloud burst, at Campo was brought in by a driver of the stage running from this point to Campo. He says two heavily laden clouds came in collision above the mountains west of Campo, and their contents were sent down in a deluge. Waters came down the ravine in a torrent fifteen to twenty feet deep and swept over Campo without a moment's warning. Campo is but a small place with not over eight houses, and but with one exception every one of these were swept away, and it was remarkable that no lives were lost. A number of heads of livestock were drowned. No estimate can be given to the losses, but they will not be heavy.

A Young Man Loses His Money, But Compels the Dealer to Refund It.

DAYTON, O., Aug. 14.—A young man answering the description of the Columbus Grave Bank robber, lost $190 playing faro in Sam Wagner's gambling house here yesterday. This morning the man walked into the gambling room up stairs where the game was going on, and with a cocked revolver in each hand compelled the dealer, Sam Wagner, to refund the money. With his revolver still covering Wagner and his lookout and helper, the young fellow backed out of the room and escaped.

The Y. M. C. A. Convention. AMSTERDAM, Aug. 14.—Only routine business was transacted at the Young Men's Christian Association world's convention this morning, and this afternoon missionary work of L. B. Wishard, who is making a five years' tour of the missionary world interest of the association work was read by Lord Kinnaird. It made a deep impression on the delegates, showing as it did, the firm hold the work is taking on educated young men.

The fall of ashes in some cases attained a depth of from three to six inches on housetops and in the streets.

Streams of lava many feet wide are now coursing down the sides of the volcano, burning everything in its course. It is stated that the Governor of Colima has sent a commission to the volcano to make a scientific report upon the eruption.

THAT LOAN ASSOCIATION.

It Proves to be a Greater Swindle Than at First Supposed.

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—Postoffice Inspector Stuart is in receipt of many letters which show that the National Capital Savings Building and Loan Association was even a greater swindle than at first supposed. Victims are being heard from all over the country. Among other comes one from A. Leeds, an Iowa farmer, who writes that not only did the association get him to purchase stock, but under the pretense of making a loan they secured a deed to his farm as well. He anxiously asks that this be sent back. Inspector Stuart fears that it has been realized on. It has been learned that Lewis F. Mortimer, manager of the concern, is in Canada. His father, who promised to come here from Minneapolis, has not been heard from.

MRS. JAMESK. POLK DEAD.

THE DEATH BED SCENE VERY AFFECTING.

The Funeral to Take Place Tomorrow—Her Remains to be Laid by the Side of Her Husband.

Associated Press Dispatches.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 14.—Mrs. James K. Polk, relict of the tenth President of the United States, died this morning. Mrs. Polk was born September 4, 1803, at Murfreesborough. She married Mr. Polk when still in her teens, and lived continuously in Nashville except when in Washington during the Congressional career of her distinguished husband, and while mistress of the White House. For the past fifty years she lived in seclusion.

President Polk left a very large estate at the time of his death, but in the civil war nearly everything was destroyed or lost. Mrs. Polk's income went dwindling down until a half dozen years ago, when she found herself well nigh penniless. When a bill was introduced in Congress to grant the widow of President Lincoln a pension of $5000 a year, it lacked one vote in the Senate to secure its passage. That was the vote of Senator Jackson, of Tennessee. He offered to vote for the bill, providing it was so amended as to give an annual pension of $5000 to Mrs. Polk and the widow of President Tyler, as well as Mrs. Lincoln, and the bill became a law. Since that time Mrs. Polk had lived on this pension.

One of the physicians who was constantly at Mrs. Polk's bedside from the time she became ill, when called upon this morning by a reporter, spoke in an affecting manner of the death bed scene. He said he had never known a grander character than that of Mrs. Polk. A large number of telegrams of condolence were received from prominent people in all parts of the country, and the flag on the State Capitol was placed at half-mast.

The funeral will occur Sunday morning, the remains being placed in a vault alongside those of her husband.

The Union Pacific Trouble.

New York, Aug. 14.—Although no official statement has been made regarding the action of the conference of the Union Pacific directors yesterday, it is generally believed that Alexander E. Orr, ex-president of the Produce Exchange, was elected a member of the executive committee in place of F. L. Ames. It is also reported that Mr. Orr has been made chairman of the Finance Committee. He has been prominent in the present Union Pacific situation, and represents large interests in the Rock Island.

OUR LONDON LETTER.

Mr. Balfour's Local Government Bill.

The Ministry Refuses to Support It.

But They Have to Bow to Tory Prejudices—Trade in all Lines Dull.

(Copyright 1891 by New York Associated Press.)

LONDON, Aug. 14.—If Mr. Balfour had not obtained the assent of the leading members of the cabinet to his Irish Local Government Bill before announcing it, a rupture in the government and a split in the party would seem inevitable. The draft of the bill has never been before the regularly constituted cabinet council.

A committee have been working on the bill for eighteen months, and the ignoring of the conservative chiefs closely in touch with the rank and file of the party, has added to the general discontent. No unionist section thoroughly endorses Balfour's outlined measure. The Spectator, a leading unionist organ, in its issue tomorrow, will put the position of the Liberal Unionists straight in denouncing the bill as a Home Rule measure in disguise.

The National Observer, a leading opponent of Tory opinion, attacks the ministry as becoming a Liberal Unionist agency. Among the ministerial groups only the Goschen-Chamberlain set can be said to cordially support Mr. Balfour. Strong as this group are, they are likely to be forced eventually to bow before the Tory prejudices, and either present the amended bill to suit the Conservative ideas or withdraw it at the risk of disaffection in the cabinet on the eve of a dissolution of Parliament.

The report of the labor department of the Board of Trade is now watched with keen interest. In connection with the McKinley law, the report says: "The labor market is in a disturbed condition. A demand has been felt in ship building, engineering and iron and steel trades. In spite of the shrinkage trade in iron and steel prices are steady. This is due to the fact that raw materials are high when compared with other periods of decreasing trade. Coal continues to be maintained on a high level. This is partly due to good wages paid colliers, whose powers of combining prevents lowering wages, and restricts the output and thus maintains prices."

Associated Press Dispatches.

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—Contrary to general expectation, the local directory of the World's Fair, at a meeting tonight, failed to take any decisive action on the nomination of Messrs. Samuels and Peabody, for chief respectively of the horticultural and liberal arts bureau. The nominations were "hung up" until the next meeting, to give time, it is stated, for a more thorough investigation as to the fitness of the candidates. It is understood that, considerable opposition has developed to both gentlemen, and the ultimate fate of the nominations is uncertain.

The directory made important changes in some of the State sites, and are now permanently settled except Iowa and South Carolina, which will be acted upon later.

Among other changes, the triangular plot which had been assigned to Indiana, Michigan and Ohio will be divided into quarters.
